

Nimby

Nimby is well named and very well trained:
he never does a thing in my back yard

At first he found his studies hard on his PhD in Sphincter Control but now, like us, he sits on the seat of a white glazed china bowl

Though he has a caper with the paper Nimby has also learned to flush and if caught, so to speak, with his trousers down, to blush

Man's best friend to the bitter end
