Ever the materialist he would ask financial questions - If you could only have a million pounds or an ocean-going yacht which would you choose?

Growing older, the questions grew simpler - If you could only have a strawberry or a raspberry
which would you choose?

Now, after a lifetime of stocks and shares, it is God's turn -
If you could only have life or death
which would you choose?

The thunder rolls
the lightning strikes and God rolls his spherical, un-numbered dice.
